POEM
Train Journey

There is a train at the station
With a seat reserved just for me.
I'm excited about its destination,
As I've heard it sets you free.

The trials and tribulations,
The pain and stress we breathe,
Don't exist where I am going,
Only happiness, I believe.

I hope that you will be there
To wish me on my way;
It's not a journey you can join in,
It's not your time today.

There'll be many destinations,
Some are happy, some are sad,
Each one a brief reminder
Of the great times that we've had.

Many friends I know are waiting,
Who took an earlier train,
To greet and reassure me
That nothing has really changed.

We'll take the time together
To catch up on the past,
To build a new beginning,
One that will always last.

One day you'll take your journey
On the train, just like me,
And I promise that I'll be there
At the station and you will see

That life is just a journey
Enriched by those you meet.
No one can take that from you,
It's always yours to keep.

But now, as no seat is vacant,
You will have to muddle through.
Make sure you fulfil your ambitions,
As you know I'll be watching you.

And if there's an occasion
To mention who you knew,
Speak kindly of that person,
As one day it will be you.

Now I can accept this ending
And, as it's time for me to leave,
Please make haste to the reception
To enjoy some drinks for me!

WELCOME

POEM

Afterglow

by Helen Lowrie Marshall

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo, whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days.
I'd like the tears of those who grieve to dry before the sun
Of happy memories that I leave when my life is done.
